CLIPPINGS FROM THE WEEKLY JOURNALS.

PICKINGS FROM "PUNCH."

OPTION.—Cuyslain of Clyric steamer to Robors.

OPTION.—Cuyslain of Clyric steamer to Robors.

OPTION.—Steamer to Robors.

IN UP A WEET, Fam.—In the large is a smoothing comparament. "The large is a see of the fact; and, being my wife, she knows are to GOOD.—Steamer to Robors.

OPTION.—Steamer to Robors.

OPTION.—

OUR SIGNS OF SPRING.

(Not the "Locksley Hall" ones.)

ring the fierce North-Easter strik breast: y a breast : Spring the hardy Briton buys himself another vest Spring coughs, colds, bronchitis, do their office of sater:

so Systing a young man's bosoon finds rolled in must be signified a young man's bosoon finds rolled in must be stated by the state of young to the state of the state

A NEW RELIGION.

ded to the Notice of Nineteenth-Ce Givilisation.)

o wretched-looking, ragged little urchina, being r day brought before Mr. Flowers, the magnirate What religion do you helong to, boys?" The Boy: "The Strand, sir."] with Articles.

if Boy: "The ourand, an:] are the Articles, simple yet grand, new-fangled faith of the turbulent Strand; aware has placed ladies' poskets behind smart little boys a profession may find, pubs" hold what Paradise mortals may know; "t'other place" darkens the street that's hig

THE NON COLDAGATE PRIEZES.

THE PROVEN SAYS that ""Time tries all," Quoth Klüber, as he dropped a tear ("The 1 call to prove he way." "The 1 call to prove the provent of the provent of the province and the provent of the province provinc

TOTAL TOTAL COMMANDS THE LARGEST ATTEN-PRINCIPLE AND ASSESSED AS A STATE AND ASSESSED AS A STATE AND ASSESSED AS A STATE AS A STAT

FROM THE TAY TO THE THAMES.

CHAPTER IV I fain would follow love if that could be, I needs must follow death, who calls for me Call and I follow, I follow; let me die.

MYSTERY AND A ROMÂNCE, IN FOUR CHAPTERS, By Charles Farquiarson Findlay.

And, more lightly still, I ran up the remaining steps A superintendress came forward to ne, with a deeply griered "Oh, Dr. Stunt!" but as she had always some lagubrious tale to tell I paid no heed to her. No one further interrupted me, for I had on air of business on, and I soon overlooked my friend as he lay those.