Agropse of the improvements, I am reminded of that jealousy which exists amongst the wards with reference to public expenditure. It is in vain that some people are told that any ward cannot be improved without the matter being a town's improvment. To talk about the filling-in of the Ferry-beat Dock being merely an improvement for Marketplace Ward is to abund for argument. Alderman BANNISTER, we may be a manufaced maxall derive man SANNITER, and is manufaced maxand, with the concurrence of the committee, the word
"Mr." was ordered to be prefixed to the two names.

I begin to breathe freely again. There is no outward and visible sign of the substantial old ball upon which we live, move, and here our being, playing any of those peculiar pranks with which we were threatened last week.
