Dear Frances,

Thank you for your "Welcome Back To Canada" phone call - very much appreciated,

It was a long drawn out journey that lasted 2 days, because British Airways' computers were fouled up world-wide! So they couldn't be sure they'd checked in the baggage properly. Therefore on Thursday (Departure Day) after five hours we were all taken off the plane & taken for the night to airport hotels - all hospitality at their expense. My room was sumptuous. On Friday we reassembled for a 2 pm departure, but again the baggage & the passengers didn't match up, ~~and~~ after 4 hours this time the pilot got rid of all the baggage in the hold & we flew without it. It is being ^{on} sent in a cargo plane, & I'm now eagerly awaiting it today! That computer glitch cost British Airways about 8 million pounds. They were very courteous about it all & hoped this wouldn't put us off ~~the trip~~

got home about 10 pm last night,

& ran like a dog, sniffing around & making really sure this is my home.

I did enjoy my visit, it was lovely seeing you & now I can visualize you throughout your day. And you don't have to plan any meals!

The Grentzes take great pleasure in showing off Salisbury Cathedral which really is very splendid, & I have to say Pamela has done a great job with the kneelers. Someone called I think Lucy Judd designed the - Pamela (+ helpers) did the upholstery, on a vast scale. There are beautiful things to see in that Cathedral,

I will stop now, & hope all this makes sense. Lots & lots of love to Jane
